Definitions

Network Marketing Organizations / Franchises: Network marketing organizations and franchises are not considered employers for the purposes of recruiting at Great Falls College MSU. Such organizations are those that engage in one or more of the following practices:

- Sponsorship of an individual in setting up his/her own business for the purpose of selling products or services and/or recruiting others to set up their own business.
- Requirement of an initial investment from individuals with the organization itself serving as an umbrella or parent corporation. The initial investment may be a direct payment of a fixed fee, payment to attend an orientation or training session, and/or purchase of a starter kit.
- Compensation is in the form of straight commission, fees from others under their sponsorship in the organization, and/or a percentage of sales generated by others.
- Requirement of “employee” to collect and deposit gross amount then organization holding back money for advertising, promotions, administrative, or other back office costs before the remainder is released as a net paycheck.

Commission Based Positions: The organization needs to fully disclose compensation package and business costs incurred up through the first year of employment. This includes salary, duration of salary, training allowance, incentive programs, stock options, commission structure, benefits and any costs borne by the applicant/employee including testing, licenses, classes, travel expenses and equipment. All positions must pay at least minimum wage as a base salary.

Internship Posting

Internship may be offered as paid or unpaid opportunities. Your compensation decision needs to be clearly indicated within the internship posting description. The employer must have signed and returned an “Agreement of Responsibilities” to the Internship Supervisor prior to the hire date of a current Great Falls College MSU student.

Documents can be obtained from the faculty advisor for the internship. In addition to the Great Falls College MSU criteria, the Federal Government has established an “Internship Programs Under the Fair Labor Standards Act”. For complete information: http://www.dol.gov/whd/regs/compliance/whdfs71.htm. Below is a portion of the U.S. Department of Labor Wage and Hour Division six guidelines to be considered:

1. The internship, even though it includes actual operation of the facilities of the employer, is similar to training which would be given in an educational environment;
2. The internship experience is for the benefit of the intern;
3. The intern does not displace regular employees, but works under close supervision of existing staff;
4. The employer that provides the training derives no immediate advantage from the activities of the intern; and on occasion its operations may actually be impeded;
5. The intern is not necessarily entitled to a job at the conclusion of the internship; and
6. The employer and the intern understand that the intern is not entitled to wages for the time spent in the internship.

If all of the factors listed above are met, an employment relationship does not exist under the FLSA, and the Act’s minimum wage and overtime provisions do not apply to the intern. This exclusion from the definition of employment is necessarily quite narrow because the FLSA’s definition of “employ” is very broad.

On-Campus Recruiting Activities

Recruiting activities shall be understood to mean any formal inquiry, request, or visit by an outside agency, business, institution, or organization, the primary purpose of which is to interest students/alumni in employment, independent contracting, service, or educational opportunity with that agency, business, institution, or organization. Recruiting activities include, but are not limited to: on-campus interviews, career fairs, presentations, campus information tables, and opportunities advertised on College bulletin boards or via College online services.
